How to Play

Sudoku is a logic puzzle played on a 9 × 9 grid divided into nine smaller 3 × 3 boxes. Some cells are filled with numbers (the clues); the rest are empty.

The goal is to fill every empty cell so that all three rules are satisfied at once:

1. Every row contains each of the numbers 1 – 9 exactly once.
2. Every column contains each of the numbers 1 – 9 exactly once.
3. Every 3 × 3 box contains each of the numbers 1 – 9 exactly once.

Every puzzle in this book has been verified to have exactly one correct solution, reached by logic alone — no guessing.

Tips for getting started

- Work in pencil. You will change your mind, and that is a normal part of solving.

- Look for rows, columns, or 3 × 3 boxes that already have many clues. They are easier to complete first.

- When you find a number that can go in only one place, write it firmly. Each new entry tightens the puzzle.

- If you feel stuck, take a short break. A fresh look often reveals the next move.

A Helpful Technique: Scanning

Pick a number — say, the digit 5 — and look at where it already appears. Each row, column, and 3 × 3 box can contain only one 5. By eliminating the rows, columns, and boxes that already have a 5, you often find that only one cell is left where another 5 can go.

					5

In this snapshot, look at row 5 (the empty middle row). Columns 1, 4, and 9 already have a 5 elsewhere in the puzzle, and so does the middle 3 × 3 box. Cross those out, and only one cell in row 5 can hold a 5. That is your next confident entry.

Full solutions are provided at the back of the book.
